

UNIVERSITY OF KRAGUJEVAC
Faculty of Philology and Arts, Kragujevac
S Y L L A B U S
Programme	56: English Language and Literature (undergraduate studies)
Course Name and Code	Morphology, 56032
Course Structure (lectures, seminars)	lecture (2), seminar (2)
Year of Study	II
Academic Year	2017/18
Semester	III
ECTS Credits and Course Status (mandatory or elective)	5 ECTS (mandatory)
Instructor(s)
Course Requirements	/
Course Aims	Acquiring general notions from the morphological theory. Understanding of basic concepts and acquiring basic skills needed for identifying and describing morphological processes in English language.
Course Overview	Subject of morphology. Word. The morphological structure of words: the root, the base, affixes. Morphological Classification: simple and complex words. Morphological processes. Composition, derivation, inflection, conversion, echoing, blending, clipping, back-formation. Compounds. Derivatives. Prefixes. Suffixes. Lexical paradigm. Grammatical categories. Grammatical paradigms.
Grading System (including segment percentage)	- Activity in class (10%) - Progress test (40%) - Final test (50%)
Textbooks and Mandatory Reading	Required: - Stageberg, N. (1981) An Introductory English Grammar. New York: Holt, Rinehart and Winston, pp. 129-165. - script with exercises